422 is the undisputed proven curve bender of the South Devon Breed. The NCBA Carcass Merit project determined that he was one of the most tender sires they tested in the South Devon breed. Dad saw his sons and daughters at Scott Bollenbach and was impressed. He immediately made arrangement with Scott to buy this outstanding proven sire. We firmly believe that he is a solid prepotent sire that will be a formidable foundation for our South Devon program. Another interesting thing to note is that in Leachman annual bull sale the majority of the bull were sired by Cimarron Superior 442. The bull listed here represent 30 years of Cimarron breeding and we plan to continue that progress with the same determination that we have had in our Red Angus program.

South Devon offers a tender and high choice-breeding alternative to use on your cows. South Devon will give you hybrid vigor. When you crossbreed the low heritable traits (fertility, milking ability and calf vigor) respond most rapidly to cross breeding. Crossbreeding is used to improve the low heritable traits, which should result in a more profitable cowherd. Crossbreeding is proven to improve the low heritability traits, which will result in a more profitable cow herd. Historical data on numerous test herds of cattle report 20 to 25% increase in total production--- we have researched many breeds of cattle and South Devon is our second breed of choice to use in cross breeding program. South Devons are known as one of the most tender of beef breeds along with being efficient grazers that have excellent maternal traits. Our customers using these bulls are reporting very good results.

All are registered with the North American South Devon Assoc and have South Devon EPD's. The average for South Devon EPD's are printed at the bottom of the page. Last fall we decided to send the oldest half of our South Devon bull to the Midland Bull test in Billing Montana. South Devon has been the high selling breed at Midland for the past couple of years. Because the oldest half of our South Devon Bulls went to Midland these bulls represent the youngest half. Since they are younger we have decided to provide updated South Devon Information the week prior to the sale. Almost all the bulls were sired by Cimarron Superior 442 as are all the bulls listed here in the catalog.
